Meeting the donor

our impression

With his 192 cm height, blue-green eyes, and cheeky smile, you can't help but smile back. Whenever Dalby opens the door, it's with his arms wide open and a huge smile that shows he's here because it makes sense to him to do something for others.

Dalby is the kind of person who gives a lot of himself to the right cause. In addition to having his heart in the right place, Dalby is also really funny. He manages to create an atmosphere around himself that shows him as a person who wants everyone in his presence to smile and fill the day with laughter. The days are never quiet for Dalby.

He loves to make the most of his day and is always up to something new or on his way to something.

He likes to surround himself with people and loves his work, where he has also managed to forge some good, solid friendships. For him, life is a gift to be enjoyed every single day, and being able to pass that on to others means the world to Dalby.

Donor essay

Describe your relationship with your family. How has your family shaped your values and who you are today?

Was a bit rough when I was younger, mainly because of me as I was not the easiest child. But after I left Denmark to move abroad my relationship with my entire family has improved a lot

What makes you unique?

I would say I don't know anyone like me that would sacrifice his own happiness for other people

What are you most proud of and why?

I am proud of the person I am today because I know I'm a good person, I am the guy who would always give someone else a second chance or the benefit of the doubt, but if you mess it up after I gave you a chance, I will not give you a third.

Furthermore, I think my mindset is that one of a protector. I will always step in if there is any kind of altercation or argument to protect the ones I love and it's just a reflex. Keep in mind I never start anything myself because I am good at de-escalating.
